

HARD COAL MEN SETTLE SCALES

Rumor Says That There Will Be No Strike In Anthracite Fields This Year.

MEANS A STRUGGLE FOR OTHERS

Bituminous Workers Will Have To Fight Their Own Battle Against Great Odds, If Report Is True.

[By Associated Press.]
Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 21.—There is a rumor here that the anthracite operators have effected a settlement with the miners and that there will be no strike among the anthracite men. This would leave the bituminous miners to fight their battle alone. No confirmation or additional information is obtainable.

It was reported here that National Vice President Lewis and Secretary, Treasurer Wilson of the United Mine Workers of America were coming to Pittsburg to meet President Mitchell, who will arrive from New York to-day. The object of their visit, it was said, was not to investigate the trouble between President Dolan and the delegates of the Pittsburg district but to meet in conference with the bituminous coal operators.

Much interest is being manifested here in connection with President Mitchell's visit and predictions are being made that something important concerning the coal situation will develop.

Illinois Miners Assemble.
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 21.—The annual convention of the Illinois district, United Mine Workers of America, began here Tuesday. Mayor Devereux and James F. Morris, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois State Federation of Labor, made addresses of welcome. Response was made by President H. C. Perry of the Illinois miners' district. President Perry in his annual speech dealt principally with two important mining measures passed by the last legislature—the shot firers' law and the mine examiners' law.

State Secretary-Treasurer Ryan in his annual report dwelt almost entirely on the likelihood of a strike. He said Illinois miners were well prepared for a strike. He declared that on Jan. 31, 1906, they had $300,000 in their treasury. He referred to editorials which had appeared in leading papers of the country in which it was stated that in case of a strike the Murder or Suicide of Unidentified Man Revealed by Discovery of Corpse.

[By Associated Press.]
Chicago, Feb. 21.—The body of an unidentified man, apparently about forty-five years old, was found today in a street gutter at the corner of Twenty-first street and Calumet avenue in the very heart of a fashionable residence district on the south side. There was a bullet hole above the right ear and a cheap revolver lay near the corpse, but the police were unable to state whether it was a case of murder or suicide. The only clue to the identity of the man are the initials "A. T." stamped in the sweatband of his hat and the name of the seller, "B. K. & Co., Milwaukee." The man was well dressed, giving every appearance of being a prosperous business man.

officers this fall and the Republican state committee assembled at the Copeland hotel here today to fix the time and place for holding the nominating convention. The probability is that the convention will be held in Topeka late in April or early in May. With the gathering of the state committeemen and other party leaders talk regarding candidates is naturally rife. Indications are not lacking that Governor Hoch will meet with considerable opposition in his efforts to secure re-nomination. The names of several possible rivals for the gubernatorial nomination have been tentatively brought forth, among them those of Grant Hornaday of Ft. Scott and J. W. Creech of Herington. For auditor of state, secretary of state and other places on the ticket there are already a number of aspirants in the field.

Man Whose Wife Was Ejected from White House Wants Roosevelt to Apologize.

[By Associated Press.]
Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—Dr. Minor Morris, whose wife some weeks ago was ejected from the White House where she had gone to present a grievance to the President, today gave out for publication the correspondence which recently passed between himself and the President. Morris demands a public apology of the President "for this outrage on womanhood and common decency." Secretary Loeb replied to the letter, stating that the investigation by the chief of police showed the arrest was justified and that the kindest act to Mrs. Morris and her kinfolk was to refrain from giving the case additional publicity.

FAVOR DRASTIC REFORM MOVES

Congress For Uniform Divorces Has An Animated Discussion In Sessions.

IT ADOPTS AN IMPORTANT SECTION

Where Plaintiff Is Domiciled In Foreign Jurisdiction At Time Cause Of Complaint Arises; Local Statutes To Be Used.

[Special to The Gazette.]
Washington, Feb. 21.—Animated discussion was indulged in Tuesday by the congress on uniform divorce laws on the resolutions proposed by the Pennsylvania delegation outlining important reforms for uniform laws on this subject by the various states and which had been indorsed practically in their entirety by the resolutions committee. Arguments were exhausted and parliamentary tactics invoked by the minority of the congress to defeat the adoption of the following portion of the report of the committee on resolutions striking the deathblow at the migratory divorce: "When the courts are given cognizance of suits where the plaintiff was domiciled in a foreign jurisdiction at the time the cause of complaint arose it should be insisted that relief will not be given unless the cause of divorce was included among those recognized in such foreign domicile."

The section was finally adopted by an overwhelming vote after a compromise amendment offered by O. W. Hart of Louisiana had been defeated by a vote of 15 to 16. The forces opposing the adoption of the section were led by Rev. Caroline Bartlett Crane of Michigan, whose efforts were seconded by Delegates Walcott of Michigan, Leach of West Virginia and Sterling of South Dakota.

Regarding the adoption of the first resolution submitted by the committee that it was the sense of the congress that a federal divorce law was not feasible, Governor Pennypacker said: "The resolution has been adopted and the first step in the path of progress has been taken."

Opposes Absolute Divorce.
The section declaring that each state should adopt legislation restricting the remedies afforded by its statutes of divorce to its own citizens was adopted with some modifications. Bishop Shanley of North Dakota explained his presence in the convention, saying: "I am thoroughly in sympathy with anything that is to destroy the divorce evil. I do not approve of absolute divorce for any cause whatsoever."

The congress continued its sessions in conjunction with representatives of the interchurch conference on marriage and divorce, headed by Bishop Doane. This latter pledged co-operation with the congress in the consummation of the objects sought to be gained.

The question of whether or not New Mexico should have a delegate precipitated a lengthy discussion, the decision finally being reached that inasmuch as the governors of territories were not included in the invitations of Gov. Pennypacker territorial delegates might sit in the congress, but shall not enjoy the right to vote.

Advocate Publicity Measure.
The representatives of the interchurch conference then presented to the congress the act indorsed by the American Bar association for the promotion of uniformity of legislation covering the subject of divorce and remarriage. It was explained that the object of such legislation was publicity and comity between the states.

After the appointment by Gov. Pennypacker of a committee to consider the advisability of recommending a uniform marriage license the resolutions committee reported on the suggestions of the Pennsylvania delegation regarding proper divorce laws. The committee practically indorsed the suggestions in their entirety.

GENERAL CONFERENCE IS TO DECIDE THE MATTER

France And Germany Can Not Agree As To The Policing Of Morocco Yet.

[By Associated Press.]
Paris, Feb. 21.—A semi-official note has been issued announcing France's intention to discontinue private negotiations with Germany on the Moroccan question and to carry the question of policing Morocco before the judgment of the world in the open conference.

The note states that Germany's reply indicates that it is evidently the desire of Germany to have the conference fail, and it adds the delegates will not separate before fifteen days have elapsed and after discussing all the questions on the original program.

The latter statement indicates that there is no present intention on the part of France to create a rupture by withdrawing from the conference.

Points at Issue.
The deadlock is upon the following specific points: 1. Germany's reply declared for the internationalization of Morocco's police and the absolute equality of all nations in Morocco.

The French absolutely refuse these principles. The French view is that the German reply leaves little hope for the success of the conference.

Some of the principal delegates declare that failure of the conference is now inevitable.

Germany Will Not Yield.
The German government, it is stated, stands resolutely by its position, not to yield the policing of Morocco to France, although fresh proposals looking toward a settlement are likely to be made by neutral powers.

The view taken of the situation by the diplomats here is that it is doubtful whether France and Germany can be satisfied to break up the conference without disposing of the main questions in dispute.

The failure to agree and France's determination to end the private negotiations bring the parties to a deadlock. This promises to result in a prolonged crisis in which each side maintains the position it took up before the open conference.

OFFICIALS OF MICHIGAN CITIES IN CONVENTION

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 21.—The convention of the League of Michigan Municipalities got down to business in earnest this morning with an attendance of members that represented many of the leading cities of the state. The session was opened with the annual address of the president, Mayor Edwin F. Sweet of Grand Rapids, which was followed by the secretary's report presented by Prof. John A. Fairlie of Ann Arbor. The closing feature of the forenoon program was an address by Alderman David E. Heineman of Detroit, who took as his subject "Municipal Progress With and Without Brakes." The afternoon was spent by the members in a trip of inspection to the lighting plant, pumping station, garbage burner and other public works of this city.

Reassembling this evening the league listens to addresses on good roads, asphalt paving and repair, the revision of the state constitution, and the interest of the municipalities in constitutional amendments.

MINIATURE FLOODS IN ALL PARTS OF CITY

Melting Snow, Rains and Frost Cause
Inconvenience to Interurban Passengers.

Rains, melting snow and a general February thaw have caused an overflow in both ends of the city. Milwaukee street was turned into a miniature river yesterday afternoon and the water poured down its two gutters and far out into the street like a mill race. The other hills in the third ward added to the volume of water that went into the river and washing winter refuse down blocked gutters and overflowing sidewalks. Several third ward residents living on the side hill were inconvenienced by water that appeared in their cellars. Rock river rose rapidly and while not dangerous or near it has considerable more water to take care of than it had yesterday morning. For the present all hopes of cutting another freeze-up is necessary before work can be done. The Rockford and Beloit interurban was seriously inconvenienced by the water that flowed in volumes over their track near where the St. Paul crosses it. North-bound cars were forced to stop at the south side of the arch and the passengers took "Job's" ferry over the railroad track to the other car that brought them to the city. But one accident occurred during the many transfers last evening. Jack Walsh of Rockford slipped down the bank and fractured the small bones in his ankle. He was brought to the city and housed at the Grand hotel, where Dr. Pember attended to his injuries. Spring Brook is also very high and the marsh is overflowing with water. It is not, however anticipated that any serious trouble will result from the excess of moisture.

TOBACCO MEN TO SECURE RELIEF

CONGRESS REVISES A LAW PASSED
AT LAST SESSION.

WILL ALTER CONDITIONS

Bill to Amend Section of the Constitution Passed by Ways and Means Committee.

Washington, D. C., February 14.—The Ways and Means Committee of the House agreed without division to favorably report the bill for the relief of tobacco growers in the form in which it passed the House last session. This bill amends subsection nine of Section 3244 of the Revised Statutes of the United States to read as follows:

"Every person whose business it is to manufacture tobacco or snuff for himself, or who employs others to manufacture tobacco or snuff, whether such manufacture be by cutting, pressing, grinding, crushing, or rubbing of any raw or leaf tobacco, or otherwise preparing raw or leaf tobacco, or manufactured or partially manufactured tobacco or snuff, or the putting up for use or consumption of scraps, waste, clippings, stems, or deposits of tobacco resulting from any process of handling tobacco or by the working or preparation of leaf tobacco, tobacco stems, scraps, clippings, or waste, by sitting, twisting, screening, or any other process, shall be regarded as a manufacturer of tobacco. Provided, that unstemmed tobacco in the natural leaf, and not manufactured or altered in any manner shall not be subject to any internal revenue tax or charge of any kind whatsoever and it shall be lawful for any person to buy and sell such unstemmed tobacco in the leaf, without payment of tax of any kind. Provided further, that any person who sells natural leaf tobacco to manufacturers of tobacco, snuff, or cigars shall be deemed and considered a dealer in leaf tobacco and become subject to all the provisions, rules and regulations of subsection six of section 3244, Revised Statutes, as amended by Section 14, Act of March 1st, 1879, and also as amended by the act of March 3rd, 1883, and, further, shall be subject to all the provisions of section 3360, U. S. Revised Statutes, as amended by section 14, Act of March 1st, 1879 and of Sections 3359 and 3391, U. S. Revised Statutes; And, Provided, Further, That farmers and growers of tobacco may sell leaf tobacco of their own growth and raising to manufacturers of tobacco, snuff, or cigars without being considered leaf tobacco dealers or manufacturers of tobacco and shall not be subject to the sections of the law and amendments thereof above named."

Representative James of Kentucky, appeared before the committee for a few moments this morning after which this action was taken.

GAMBLING WITH DEATH.

What Many of Us Are Doing Three Times a Day.

For everything we get something is taken away. Every act pulls two ways. Some men in power dole out their souls for it. They can't have soul and power at the same time.

And so, in this quick-living age, most of us can't have energy and health at the same time. One or the other must be lost, and it is usually health.

We know we are doing wrong and would like to reform, but we have a morbid fear of being laughed at if we aim to live and eat according to conscience and good sense.

Some of us break away for awhile and enslave ourselves to a diet. We read about the hardy Scotsman being fed on porridge and oatmeal, making soldiers of muscle and dash, and how Caesar's army was fed on corn. But the diet doesn't last long. We quickly swing back into the great line, eating and drinking in fulness like the rest, eating anything and everything, at any time, and any way we find it. We say "what is a stomach for if it isn't to obey the palate?"

But there is really no one rule applicable to everybody's stomach. What one man may eat another may not.

But the dyspeptic should remember that the death list has a dark shadow hovering over it with a long bony finger pointing to "died of heart disease."

Physicians will tell us that there are few cases of heart disease that do not come from a stomach derangement.

At every meal we may be brewing for ourselves a terrible case of dyspepsia. It may come upon us after breakfast-to-morrow morning, or after that oyster supper to-morrow night.

Acute indigestion means that you have even chances for death or life. That's the gamble you are taking. That precious gastric juice decides, as a rule, whether you continue to live or not.

Therefore, if you feel your food lies like a "lump of lead" on your stomach, beware! Your gastric juice is weak. It can't dispose of the food in time to prevent fermentation. Take something that will do it effectively, and at once. Take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the most powerful tablets in the world for the relief of all kinds of stomach trouble, nausea, indigestion, the worst cases of dyspepsia, fermentation, bloating, feeling, sourness, heartburn and brash.

One grain of an ingredient of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food. Your stomach needs a rest at once. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will relieve your stomach of more than two-thirds of the work it has to do, digesting perfectly whatever food there is in your stomach.

You can't do your work well, or be cheerful, or have energy or vim or ambition, when your stomach is bad. Make yourself feel good after a hearty meal; feel good all over, clear your mind and make you enjoy life, by taking Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Give your stomach a rest; so it can right itself, then you need fear nothing. You can get these tablets anywhere for 50 cents a package.

JUDGE BECKER'S
Letter of Acceptance

To the voters of the Twelfth Judicial circuit comprised of the counties of Green, Jefferson and Rock.

Having been nominated as a candidate for the office of circuit judge, I beg to assure you that I appreciate the spirit which animated those who have tendered me this nomination and I accept it in the same spirit in which it is tendered. I deem it, however, fitting at this time to say that politically I am a democrat and it is my desire not to deceive anybody in this contest as to my political affiliations, for if a judge has no political convictions then it can not be reasonably assumed that he has convictions on any other subject. As a rule men will mingle together in business, church and society without regard to their political opinions. It is not because they lack convictions, but because they have a proper conception of the privileges and duties of citizenship, and recognize the right of each person to have and to express his views on all political subjects. Human judgment is fallible enough when unbiased by selfish considerations, and, in order that I may not be accused of attempting to use the patronage of the office, if elected, to advance any political ambition, I therefore hereby announce with all the emphasis my words can express, my fixed determination to carry out and enforce the following platform of principles:

- I.—The right of every man to worship God according to his own conscience.
- II.—A non-partisan and impartial judiciary.
- III.—The enforcement of the Jeffersonian maxim of equal rights to all and special privileges to none.
- IV.—A public office to be a public trust, and every public official to be a public servant.
- V.—No discrimination in the enforcement of the law between the poor and the rich.
- VI.—A speedy trial of all cases and the expenses of litigation thereby diminished.
- VII.—Continuance of cases over for the term not favored.
- VIII.—Amendments to pleadings and proceedings in furtherance of justice allowed without the interposition of a special tax.
- IX.—Frivolous demurrers and flimsy defenses interposed for the purpose of delay will be stricken from record with costs as a penalty.
- X.—Technicalities not favored and cases tried on their merits.
- XI.—In the trial of cases, courteous treatment by attorneys towards each other will be required and the abuse of witnesses prohibited.
- XII.—The adoption by a bar association of a lawyers' fee schedule not recognized, it being in the nature of a trust.
- XIII.—A square deal and fair play to every man.

In the event of my election I shall deem it my official duty to carry out the platform of principles above enumerated and do my sworn duty, for without obedience to law—justice is impossible.

In conclusion permit me to say that, the foregoing platform is not made like a political or railroad platform to see in and out of, but it is made to stand on and with the people's confirmation I pledge you that every effort of which God shall render me capable will be exerted in support of the principles involved. I, therefore, submit by candidacy on its merits to the suffrages of the people who will be called upon to sit as a high court on April 22 next to select their choice and for their will and judgment I submit.

Dated at Monroe, Wisconsin, February 20, 1906.

Yours very truly,
JOHN M. BECKER.

General Railway News

The supreme court of North Carolina in Hutchinson vs. Southern Railway company (32 Southeastern Rep. 263), holds that where a person having a ticket for a regular station is permitted without objection to take a train which did not stop at that station (he not knowing that the train did not stop there and nothing good on that train) that it was the duty of the company to stop the train at that station to permit him to alight.

Progress on the double tracking of the railway across the Isthmus of Panama, owned by the United States government, has been such as to encourage hopes that it will be ready for service in July. Steam shovels are being utilized in cutting the side embankments.

WOOL MARKET MAKES A BETTER SHOWING

Weekly Digest of the Market Situation as Regards the Product of the Sheep.

Some 6,000,000 pounds of wool were taken in by the mills in the east at the wool centers the past week at concessions. These wools are losing the owners plenty of money. At a meeting of wool dealers held in Milwaukee yesterday the east was well represented and expressed a conservative feeling on the coming 1906 clip. Several good sized holdings in the state are being offered at less than cost price at clip-time to unload before the new clip arrives. There is no danger of a wool famine. On the contrary, wools are reaching the consumers from all sides beyond their power of immediate absorption. Consequently many buyers had anticipated an easier market and that in any case values would at least fall to the level of the purchases, although the demand is remarkably sustained. Wool at 20c is at normal value and at 30c is abnormal value.

The supreme court of North Carolina in Hutchinson vs. Southern Railway company (32 Southeastern Rep. 263), holds that where a person having a ticket for a regular station is permitted without objection to take a train which did not stop at that station (he not knowing that the train did not stop there and nothing good on that train) that it was the duty of the company to stop the train at that station to permit him to alight.

Progress on the double tracking of the railway across the Isthmus of Panama, owned by the United States government, has been such as to encourage hopes that it will be ready for service in July. Steam shovels are being utilized in cutting the side embankments.

IMPROVEMENT OF ROCK RIVER.

A Large and Enthusiastic Meeting.

Water Navigation vs. Railroad Monopolies.

Rock County Products Must Go "Unvexed to the Sea."

Cheap Freight, Cheap Lumber, Cheap Wood and Cheap Coal.

One of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings ever held in this city, assembled at the Court Room yesterday afternoon to consult as to the best means of making Rock River navigable from its source to its mouth. The large hall was densely packed with solid and substantial farmers and business men of this and the adjoining counties, and large numbers went away unable to gain admittance. Delegates were present from Rockford, Illinois, from Watertown and Beloit, and other points of importance interested in, and sympathizing with the objects of the meeting.

(Speeches were made by Hon. Hamilton Richardson, Mr. Locke, Col. Hugh Lee and resolutions were presented by Alexander Graham.)

The convention was in every respect all that the most enthusiastic friends of this great improvement could have wished. Attended by ten or twelve of the most wealthy and substantial citizens of old Rock, the spirit evinced by the meeting was a sure guarantee that the people have now resolved to take hold and complete a means of internal communication between the great Lakes and the Mississippi river, that shall not only speedily afford them many material advantages, but will remain an enduring monument to their sagacity and enterprise for generations yet to come.

The reluctant advertiser, who has to be "persuaded" before he will risk even a half-adequate campaign, is described by a great writer in this way: "We do what we must, and call it by the best name we can, and would fain have the praise of having intended the result which ensues."

France and Germany should remember that they are first-class nations and refrain from acting like South American republics.

Great Britain has launched a $7,500,000 battleship, and hopes Japan will regard this as offsetting some of its military deficiencies.

It might have been foreseen all along that Pat Crowe stood a chance of being brought to trial and acquitted if he got caught, and lived long enough.

Mr. Rockefeller may have changed the color of his wig and remained at home.

Western nations want China to wake up just enough to buy their surplus goods.

Bob Evans in command of a fleet is nearing Venezuela. Now will Castro behave?

China is getting civilized fast. It is already beginning to pick quarrels with other nations.

Engineer Wallace remains firm in the opinion that you cannot dig a canal with red tape.

Perhaps the governors do not know it, but what Tom Lawson really wants is to have them turn the limelight on him.

EDITORIAL CANDIDATES.

These are halcyon days in Georgia journalism. Three editors are running for the democratic nomination for governor—Colonel Estill of the Savannah News, Clark Howell of the Atlanta Constitution and Hoke Smith of the Atlanta Journal. The race began early, and they are now getting up their highest speed. Another Georgia editor, John Temple Graves of the Atlanta News, is a candidate for United States senator, and the trenchant pens of these four gentlemen are giving the state a picturesque and sensational campaign which staggers the memory of the oldest Georgia colonel.

NEWSPAPERS NEEDN'T TELL.

The court of appeals has decided that newspapers cannot be compelled by the courts to divulge their sources of information, says a London dispatch, except under very special circumstances. The point was raised in a libel suit against a trade paper. The lower court ordered the defendants to disclose the name of the informant on whose statement the alleged libel was raised. The court of appeals reversed the order regarding the divulging of the name of the informant, but decided that the plaintiffs had the right to ask the defendants what information they possessed tending to prove their belief that the alleged libelous comment was justified.

SLIDING SCALE FOR "PUFFS."

A Western editor has come to the conclusion that the people who desire "puffs" in his paper must pay the following prices, says Newspaperdom: For telling the public that a man is a successful citizen when everybody knows he is as lazy as a government mule, $2.75; referring to a deceased citizen as one who is mourned by the entire community, when he knows he will only be missed by the poker circles, $1.08; referring to some gallivanting female as an estimable lady whom it is a pleasure to meet, when every business man in town would rather see the devil coming, horns, hoofs and all, than to see her coming towards them, $3.10; calling an ordinary pulpit pounder an eminent divine, 60c; sending tough sinners to heaven with poetry, $5.00.

THINK THIS OVER.

In many towns of the west are located flourishing mills. Generally these are among the most successful business enterprises if properly managed. There is every reason why farmers and the citizens of the community in general should give their patronage to the local mill. In the first place, at points where good mills are located they afford the growers of wheat and other cereals a splendid market, often paying from 5 to 8 cents per bushel for wheat more than the established market price at the elevators. Every resident of a town should use home made flour if such a thing is possible. It means that all pertaining to the growth of wheat, its marketing, its manufacture into flour, and its selling, results in a benefit and saving to the town. Where flour manufactured in foreign mills is used there is a profit to the railroads for carrying the grain to market, a profit to the commission man, the cost of milling, and the labor employed, the profit to the manufacturer, the cost of selling, and the transportation to the retailer, all of which is lost to the town. If there is a local mill in your community use the flour it produces. Its products, no doubt, are just as good, if not better, than that which is shipped into your own town from a distance.

PRESS COMMENT.

All Is Not Yet Lost.
St. Louis Globe-Democrat: A bridegroom is still necessary in a modern wedding, though inconspicuous.

Torn From Hands of Babes.
Marquette Eagle-Star: American graft even took the pennies subscribed by the children for the Lafayette monument.

Slur Meant For Geo. W.?
Superior Telegram: No, he couldn't tell a lie—but he could chop the cherry tree down and raise Ned generally when nobody was looking.

Situation After the Splash.
Milwaukee News: Gov. Davidson has jumped into the pond, but the splash that he made doesn't appear to have scared the little fishes or disturbed the big ones.

Spooner and Statehood Bill.
Racine Journal: Senator Spooner rises above the politician in joining with those who demand the people of Arizona and New Mexico shall vote separately in the question of joint statehood.

Impatient Appletonian.
Appleton Crescent: Chief Engineer Stevens says that the Panama canal can be dug in seven years. Nobody is disputing that, but what we would like to know is when the digging will commence.

Sound Doctrine For Hurley.
Hurley Miner: If a few people in Hurley would "let up" on talking politics and go to work shoveling snow, they would have more money and more self-respect at the end of five years.

Journal Calling Names Again.
Oshkosh Northwestern: The Milwaukee Journal classes Lenroot as a Swede, Davidson as a Norwegian and Connor and McGillivray as "sorrels." The Journal always did have a very polite, and diplomatic way of explaining itself.

No Sympathy For this Enoch.
Evening Wisconsin: Stoughton's Enoch Arden excites no sympathy. A man who fails to correspond with his wife while absent in these days of rapid transit and easy communication, deserves to be classed as a "dead one."

Proposition Seems Fair.
Exchange: Doubtless there would be more sentiment in favor of the revival of the whipping post for wife deserters if the suggestion were accompanied by a movement for the revival of the ducking stool for women who are naggers.

Four Corners Contest.
Green Bay Gazette: Prospects are good for an interesting spring campaign in Marinette. The prohibitionists and socialists are each going to put up a ticket as well as the two old parties. Here is certainly a variety enough to please the most fastidious.

Both on Blacklist.
Exchange: The confession of Gans, that Britt lost on a foul in his fight with him two years ago, on agreement based upon financial considerations, puts both Gans and Britt on the black list, pending explanations on the part of the latter. The "sporting fraternity" can stand almost anything but "put-up jobs."

Terrible Potent of a Smile.
Winneconne Local: Recent Washington news states that La Follette smiled at Spooner in the senate chamber, at something quite said by the senior senator. Since the smile was perpetrated it is noticed as a coincidence that the Stalwart papers have begun to speak very brotherly of La Follette, and discern the germs of brilliant statesmanship in his make-up.

Mayor of Portage Applauded.
Exchange: The Chicago Chronicle publishes editorially its approval of a Wisconsin mayor. It says: "We can not too highly commend Mayor Alois Ziemert of Portage, Wis., who has declined his salary. The reason he gives is that he has nothing to do, but we think his example should be followed by mayors who have a great deal to do and do not do it."

Just Clinton.
Clinton Times: If the Democratic party fails to hold a convention a few self-seeking demagogues, with more brass than brains, will seize upon the opportunity to gain popularity by securing the nomination to some high office, not with the expectation of being elected, but for the honor it will bring and the opportunity it will afford them to exploit their wild theories in platform declarations. The Democratic party is the minority party in this state, and never will be anything else until it attracts the conservative voter.

To Read is to Loathe.
Evening Wisconsin: Dudley W. Walton, writing to the New York Times on "Questions of Spelling," expresses a hankering for a scientific alphabet, but says:

Discussion on matters pertaining to orthodoxy spelling is unprofitable. The adoption of a method of spelling such as that in which this is written would put an end to such arguments. Mr. Walton is right. The Spartans used to fortify their young men against drunkenness by exhibiting to them the disgusting spectacle of drunk slaves. All that is required to zate the average level-headed, intelligent reader sick and tired of the whole subject of spelling reform is to see a few concrete examples of its results.

Connor Can Be Generous.
Fond du Lac Commonwealth: The two-cent fare matter is likely to become an issue in the state campaign, leading up to the primary election next fall. It will be recalled that Secretary of State Houser recently commenced an individual action before the state railway commission asking that body to require the railroads, doing business in Wisconsin, to make a two-cent rate. This action preceded Mr. Houser's announcement that he would be a candidate for re-nomination. Now come the friends of W. D. Connor, who claim that Mr. Houser has stolen Mr. Connor's thunder, and that Mr. Connor had in fact moved on this question before Mr. Houser ever thought of it. Now, Mr. Connor, it is understood, will be a candidate for governor and, like Mr. Houser, needs an issue and naturally feels aggrieved at losing a good one which he imagined had been securely placed up his sleeve. However, Mr. Connor still has his very commendable record on the "Mary Ann" bill, of which nobody can rob him.

Tragic End of John McCall.
Exchange: John A. McCall is represented as dying of a broken heart. He was a generous, lovable man, who had made in the insurance department of the state of New York a reputation for ability and integrity which, together with his popularity, led to his enlistment in the service of the great life insurance company of which since 1892 he had been the executive head.

In this position he continued practices, illegal and vicious and indefensible, which he found in vogue when he took charge. These practices involved the flagrant misappropriation of money belonging to policyholders, and its disbursement in the form of bribes to legislators and other public officials. They involved other guilty transactions, all of which have been so recently exposed that there is no need to recapitulate and explain them here. Mr. McCall was no worse than his immediate associates in "high finance," but he was no better. He did admit that what he had done was wrong. Perhaps he died without realizing his culpability, but he did realize the loss of public confidence in his integrity. The shock to his pride affected his health, and he is dead, killed by worry. It is due to his memory to recall the circumstance that he sold his home and other property at a loss and turned the proceeds in to make up to the policyholders of his company part of the immense sums which he had taken from their trust funds and wrongfully disbursed.

MISS SUSAN B. ANTHONY STRICKEN ON BIRTHDAY

Noted Suffragist Suffers Stroke of Paralysis on Eve of Banquet Given in Her Honor.

New York, Feb. 21.—While making preparations to come to New York Tuesday to attend a banquet and reception in honor of her eighty-sixth birthday Miss Susan B. Anthony, the noted suffragist, was seized with a stroke of paralysis at her home in Rochester and lies in a critical condition, although hopes are entertained of her recovery.

For months the suffragists of New York, particularly those connected with the Interurban Political Equality league, have been actively engaged in making arrangements for a great ovation to the suffrage leader. It was decided to make the affair as notable as possible and as a result there were gathered Tuesday in the Hotel Astor a large number of the local leaders, as well as many national officers and crators. Three hundred and eighty women were present at this, the largest banquet of clubwomen ever held in New York, and it was not until Miss Mary G. Hay made the announcement that the news of Miss Anthony's illness became known.

In a telegram received by Miss Hay the news came of Miss Anthony's illness and although the report was optimistic Miss Hay herself declares she is very doubtful if Miss Anthony will recover.

The announcement threw the great body of women into deep sorrow and while the banquet continued there was lacking the spirit of cheerfulness which would have pervaded it had the great suffragist been present.

Miss Anthony's friends, knowing of her wonderful constitution and strength of will power, are hoping that she will be able to rise superior to the attack and recover her strength in time.

New York Church Has Experience With Shrewd Mr. Carnegie.

New York, Feb. 21.—A church of New Rochelle which asked Andrew Carnegie for money to buy a new organ has $500 raised for that purpose. Mr. Carnegie did not give it, though. When a committee from the church asked the steel king for a contribution he recommended that $500 be raised and then he "would see what he could do." Greatly elated, the committee quickly succeeded in raising the money. Reporting their success to Mr. Carnegie the members were astounded when he told them that if they had $500 that was a great plenty and that therefore he would give nothing.

Gather from All Over the State to Learn New Methods in Care of Books

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Feb. 21.—Prominent librarians from all over the country are gathering here to attend the sixteenth annual meeting of the Wisconsin State Library association, in session in Madison today, tomorrow and Friday. Among the distinguished people present are W. E. Henry of Indianapolis, state librarian of Indiana, who while in Madison is the guest of Henry E. Legler, secretary of the state association; Miss Frances Jenkins Olcott of Pittsburgh, Pa.; director of the training school for children's librarians, who is the guest in Madison of Miss Julia R. Hopkins, city librarian; Dr. Samuel M. Rank of Grand Rapids, Mich., a prominent librarian, formerly at Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, the guest at the convention of Dr. R. G. Thwaites, secretary of the Wisconsin State Historical library; Miss Clara P. Baldwin of St. Paul, state library commissioner of Minnesota, and her assistant, Mrs. C. C. Johnson; Miss Mary E. Ahern of Chicago, editor of Public Libraries; F. W. Faxon of Boston, an officer of the American Library association; Miss Alice S. Taylor of Des Moines, secretary of the Iowa library commission, is also expected among others.

The officers of the state association are as follows: President—Dr. J. E. Birge, dean of the college of letters and sciences at the university. Vice-president—Grace O. Edwards, librarian of the public library of Superior. Treasurer—Grace A. Salisbury, librarian, state normal school, Watervator. Secretary—Henry E. Legler, secretary of the Wisconsin free library commission.

TOBACCO TALK FROM OLD VIRGINIA LAND

Bit of Tobacco Gossip Sent on to The Gazette Direct from Washington.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—Unfavorable weather and bad roads were responsible for the light receipts of tobacco on the Virginia markets during the past week. Less than twenty per cent of the crop now remains in the hands of farmers. Despite the fact that there is not much tobacco on the markets, prices continue good. Tobacco sold on the Petersburg, Va., market brought from $4.50 to $2.50 per hundred pounds, and the aggregate sales amounted to about 230,000 pounds. About 5,150,000 pounds have been disposed of here.

South Boston, Va., reports are that 200,000 pounds were sold there last week. Prices continue on the up grade, the average being 11 cents. Judging by contracts for sales of fertilizers now being entered into by tobacco farmers, it is estimated that the forthcoming season will be in excess of recent plantings. The labor problem is a serious one in this region. Negro farm hands continue to desert for the coal fields, iron mines and railway construction camps.

Sales on the Lynchburg, Va., market last week amounted to 55,300 pounds. The condition of the offerings was rather better than for several weeks past, but there was mould on many lots. The trade has been active and prices are a little better, particularly on the lower grades. Receipts at the Danville, Va., warehouses have been rather light. The quality of the offerings is generally good, being rather above the average. Very fine and low grades are scarce. Prices are firm with an upward tendency. The bulk of the crop at Durham, N. C., has been sold, and the farmers are busy burning and seeding beds for the coming crop. Prices on all grades keep up remarkably and farmers seem inclined to plant an increased crop.

Committees of the Maryland Tobacco Commission, Merchants' union and the Maryland Tobacco Growers' association have arranged for the French grades of Maryland grown tobacco as follows: Class A, 11 cents; class B, 8 cents; class C, 6 cents. These are to be the minimum selling prices after May 1st. Maryland growers have been advised to hold their crops off the market and to strip, handle and pack their tobacco with the greatest care, so that it may come into the market in the best condition.

SEVENTY-FIVE MEN AT CHURCH SUPPER

Reverends Mr. Hunt of Madison and Mr. Brad of Chicago, Spoke at Presbyterian Church.

In the parlors of the Presbyterian church last evening a men's meeting was held. The program opened with an excellent banquet at six thirty o'clock. This was served by the women of the church and seventy-five men were present to partake of it. Among the guests were Rev. Mr. Hunt of Madison, who is known in this city and Rev. Mr. Brad of Chicago, Field Missionary of the Central Western States. Both delivered addresses after supper, the general topic being "Aggressive Christian Work of Foreign Missions." Mr. Brad is on a tour through this portion of his territory and Rev. J. W. Laughlin left with him for Madison this morning. Mr. Laughlin will be with him three days assisting him in the Capital City, in Portage and in other smaller places, where day conferences are to be held.

EVIL EFFECTS OF A PRIMARY LAW SHOWN

Perpetual Office Holding Sought by Certain State Officials at Madison.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Feb. 21.—Under cover of the new primary election system, in which popularity and public advertisement are expected to count for much, the present Wisconsin state officers are one by one making their entrance into the political arena as candidates for third terms, notwithstanding the well-established though not unbroken rule that two terms of two years each is enough for any citizen in one state office. Walter L. Houser last night announced his candidacy for a third term as secretary of state, in a lengthy statement addressed to the republican electors of Wisconsin, declaring that work of reform in the state was in the process of accomplishment and that he very much desired to remain in office long enough to see these reforms carried out. He declares that he has doubled the receipts of his department during his administration, raising them from about $50,000 to $100,000 a year, by strict enforcement of the fee and license laws governing state and foreign corporations, that he is collecting some $200,000 from estates under the inheritance law which is in process of litigation and that other administrative reforms and matters of enforcement of new and untested statutes render it highly advisable that the voters of the state retain him in office for two years after his four years are gone next January.

Governor Davidson, for four years state treasurer, twice elected lieutenant governor and now governor by the resignation of R. M. La Follette, who has gone to the United States senate, is announced as a gubernatorial candidate, but is preparing a personal statement of platform. His first announcement was in the form of an interview by his private secretary, Senator O. G. Munson, declaring that Governor Davidson would stand for re-election.

Announcements are early expected from Treasurer J. J. Kempf and Attorney General L. M. Sturdevant.

OFFICES WHICH THE VOTERS MUST FILL

Monday, March 5, is the Last Day for Filing Nomination Papers—No Candidates Yet for Some Positions.

Offices to be filled at the approaching spring election are as follows: city treasurer, city attorney, school commissioner at large, justice of the peace, aldermen, supervisors, and constables for each ward; school commissioners for the second and fourth wards. Monday, March 5, is the last day for filing nomination papers. As yet no candidates have appeared for several of these positions.

BAR ASSOCIATION BANQUET MONDAY

No Effort Will Be Made to Import Speakers This Year—William Smith to Be Toastmaster.

Monday next is the opening day for the February term of circuit court. The calendar will be called in the forenoon and in the evening the Rock County Bar Association will hold its annual banquet at the Hotel Myers.

This year no special effort will be made to secure outside speakers and the addresses on the regular program will be confined to the attorneys of the county. William Smith, president of the association, will be toastmaster. The committee of arrangements consists of A. A. Jackson, E. D. McGowan, and Bernard Palmer.

NEWS OF THE STATE IN BRIEF

Joseph Needham, aged 40 years, formerly of Beloit, was killed by the cars at Council Bluffs, Ia., on Tuesday, where he worked in a railway yard.

The Mitchell house at Plainfield, one of the popular hotels in central Wisconsin, has been sold to Horace Hawkins of Coloma, Waushara county, for $3,000.

The city council of Kenosha has ordered the purchase of six voting machines, and they will be installed in the different voting places in the city before the coming city election.

Gen. Charles King of Milwaukee was the guest of honor at a dinner given by the Men's club of the First Congregational church at Kenosha on Tuesday. Covers were laid for 200 guests.

Judge Stevens at Portage decided the case of Eliza Merrill vs. E. S. Purdy and his wife, Helen M. Purdy for the defense. The suit was to make Mr. and Mrs. Purdy jointly responsible for payment of $3,000. The court holds Mrs. Purdy not responsible because she received no benefit to her separate estate, although her signature is on the note.

Judge E. Ray Stevens of Madison will not try the case of O. B. Schultz against 100 odd union labor men for $25,000 damages on charges of boycotting his business. In the circuit court today the plaintiff filed an affidavit of prejudice against the judge, the plaintiff making affidavit for the purpose of applying for a change of trial to some other court.

$91.73 DAMAGES FOR CONWAY AND HUBBELL

Judge Fifield Holds That Alfred Collins Was Bound by Contract Made by Tenant for Delivery of Leaf.

In municipal court this morning Judge Fifield handed down his decision in the case of Conway & Hubbell vs. Alfred Collins, an action brought to determine the tobacco buyer's rights in the matter of a contract made by a tenant in behalf of both himself and the landlord, and incidentally, in this instance, to recover damages from the landlord for his failure to abide by such contract. Alfred Collins was the landlord and Robert Cook the tenant. They grew six acres on shares and according to Cook's testimony, he was authorized by Collins to sell the latter's half of the crop along with his own at six cents or better and early in the season made a contract with the plaintiffs in the action for the delivery of the whole six acres at 6 1/2 cents.

The landlord denied that he gave this authority, but there was other testimony corroborating the contention that the landlord constituted the tenant, his agent, to sell. Judge Fifield found that the weight of the testimony was on this side and held Collins liable for his failure to fulfill his part of the contract. The damages were fixed at 1 1/2 cents for each pound of tobacco involved—the difference between the contract price of 6 1/2 cents and what the crop would have been worth to Conway & Hubbell at the time when the leaf should have been delivered; namely, 5 cents. The buyer's total loss which Collins will have to pay unless the case is appealed is $91.73. The decision will have a material bearing on a number of similar cases which are pending.

A year ago the buyers in abiding by their contracts had to pay in many instances prices considerably higher than the prevailing quotations when the time for delivery arrived. This season the tables were turned and it happened not infrequently that the prevailing market prices were measurably higher than the contract prices. This being the case, it is claimed that some have tried to evade the fulfillment of such contracts. Another test case which is likely to be brought into court soon will determine whether or not the intermediary who bargains for and obtains tobacco which has already been contracted for by landlord and tenant in a manner similar to the one described, is liable to the original buyer for damages.

Atty. H. S. Sloan of Edgerton and John Cunningham represented the plaintiffs in this action and E. M. Ladd of Edgerton, the defendant.

TOMORROW WILL BE NATIONAL HOLIDAY

Anniversary of Washington's Birth Will Be Observed in the City of Janesville.

Tomorrow, the twenty-second of February, the anniversary of the birth of George Washington, will be observed as a holiday throughout the nation. In Janesville the banks will be closed and study in the public schools will be suspended. Besides this the day to be honored otherwise. Tomorrow the Daughters of the Revolution will present a musical and today exercises were held in all the public schools. One of the features of these observations was held in the Adams school building this morning, when the kindergarten of that school entertained the kindergartens of the other schools. A program was rendered by the children and the mothers of the second ward students prepared delightful refreshments that were served. The value of such gatherings is not visible to all but is found in the fact that the school is to train the children both mentally and socially. It is in the schools that the fundamentals of social life should be taught and parties, as such and not as school exhibitions, train the children to meet naturally and pleasantly with others in general social intercourse.

PLEASANT SMOKER AT EAGLES' CLUB ROOMS

Local Eyrle Were Hosts to Visiting Brethren from Rockford, Beloit and Belvidere.

Last evening the Fraternal Order of Eagles were hosts at a pleasant smoker in their club rooms in the Carle block. Music, songs, speech-making, a wrestling match between two local athletes, two sparring contests between local aspirants and a boxing contest between Walter Herlick and Johnny Thompson, in which Herlick was victor, completed the evening's entertainment. The affair was only upon invitation and many members of the Eagles from Rockford, Beloit and Belvidere were present.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS ARE TO HAVE AN ENTERTAINMENT

Regular Meeting Will Be Held Tomorrow Evening with Special Program.

The Knights of Columbus will celebrate Washington's birthday tomorrow evening with a special program. Father Carroll of Watertown, president of the Watertown College, will deliver an address on "Washington the Man." There will be music and later dancing for the members and their partners. The affair will be held in the West Side Odd Fellows' Hall.

MISS ELIZABETH KEATING, FORMERLY OF JANESVILLE, WEDDED IN SIOUX FALLS

Became Bride on Wednesday, February 14—To Remain in South Dakota.

On Wednesday, February fourteenth, Miss Elizabeth G. Keating, formerly of this city, was united in marriage in Sioux Falls, S. D., to Theodore Schwartz, manager of the shoe department in one of Sioux Falls' large stores. The ceremony was performed at St. Michael's cathedral by Father W. V. Nolan, before the immediate relatives and a few friends. After a wedding breakfast served at the home of Mrs. Mary Keating, the young couple departed on an eastern trip of about ten days' duration. Upon their return to Sioux Falls they will go to housekeeping at 117 North Waite avenue. Mrs. Schwartz was a resident of Janesville up till three or four years ago, when she moved to Sioux Falls and until recently was employed as a stenographer in the office of the New York Life Insurance company in that city.

TOBACCO MEN TO SECURE RELIEF

merely reiterated the claims of those interested that tobacco growers would be greatly benefited should this bill become a law.

It will be remembered that this bill passed the House of Representatives last session, but too late to get it through the Senate. If it passes early in this session the chances are it will get through the Senate before Congress adjourns. It is especially backed by the representatives from the dark tobacco districts of Tennessee and Kentucky. There are three interesting questions in connection with this bill. First, whether under it a farmer can sell tobacco of his own growth to an exporter without becoming a dealer in leaf tobacco. Second, does the bill deny the farmers the right to twist the leaf tobacco for his personal use. Third, whether the farmer can sell his tobacco through an agent or an employee without delivering it in person. Commissioner of Internal Revenue Yerkes has given his opinion on these points holding that under this bill a farmer can sell to any one including persons who purchase leaf tobacco for export and manufacture, just as he does under the present law. Mr. Yerkes points out that there is absolutely no limitation under the proposed amendment to the right of the farmer to sell his leaf tobacco in its natural condition to any person he pleases—the individual, consumer, or dealer in leaf tobacco or manufacturer, or exporter, or to the country merchant or to any one else, nor does the amendment deny to the farmer the right to twist his leaf tobacco for his personal use. There is no statute directly conferring upon the farmer and grower the right to twist his leaf for his own use but the Internal Revenue Bureau has held that this may be done without the payment of tax and without qualifying as a manufacturer of tobacco for the reason that this occasional twisting can be considered as the business of the man to manufacture tobacco. The right of the farmer to twist tobacco is not in any way enlarged or abridged or altered by the proposed amendment.

In regard to selling the leaf tobacco, the Bureau has ruled that under existing laws this was a personal privilege to the farmer. Under this bill, however, as the restrictions on persons dealing in leaf tobacco have been so largely removed, there would be no propriety in a ruling being made limiting the sale or delivery of leaf tobacco of his own growth to the farmer in person. Mr. Yerkes also states that he is of the opinion that the decrease in revenue will be comparatively small and that no annoyance will arise by reason of the amendment as far as the execution of the law is concerned and the proper administration of departmental affairs in the Internal Revenue Bureau. Representative A. C. Stanley, of Kentucky, who is greatly interested in the welfare of the tobacco farmers of the dark tobacco district, and who has been active in the pressing of this legislation to a final vote before the committees of the Senate and House, stated to your correspondent that under the McKinley tariff bill there was no tax on tobacco in the natural leaf and the government had no difficulty in collecting the revenue or preventing the tobacco from being manufactured or sold free of duty. He cited this in contravention of the objection to the pending bill that the government could not keep track of the tobacco sold under its provisions. "The practical experience of the government with untaxed leaf has demonstrated that the collection of revenue is not in any way decreased or retarded by allowing the producer and his subsequent vendee to sell the natural leaf free of tax," said Mr. Stanley. "The manufacturer cannot sell without placing on the box or package containing it a government stamp showing the weight and character of the contents. The retailer cannot purchase or sell this tobacco unless it bears this stamp. This is a complete and perfect check upon the manufacturer. It is of no concern to the government where the manufacturer gets his tobacco, except that it should pay six cents a pound. No evidence of fraud had been experienced by the government in the collection of the revenue under the McKinley act, said Mr. Stanley. Neither did he think it would injure the revenue of the government. "I believe it will give great relief to the tobacco growers," he continued. "This onerous regulation is both unnecessary to the protection of the revenues of the government and an unwise and onerous burden upon the producers. If all the relief which the growers ask should be granted the revenues of the government will not be affected to exceed $750,000 per annum. No tax accrues to the government on account of the sale of tobacco in the natural leaf. As to the possibility of the tobacco sold in the natural leaf driving out of the market the higher priced articles, this is a contingency so remote as to deserve but little consideration and less apprehension on the part of any one. What the producer wants is the unhampered sale of his product. The farmer has not the opportunity or means to weigh or sack his tobacco in 2-ounce packages and keep the intricate books required of the government. All he desires is to be able to sell the natural leaf, whether he can find a purchaser and if that purchaser chooses to manufacture it he is certain to pay this six cents tax rather than incur the pains and penalties imposed by law."

WEDDED IN ROCKFORD ON WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 14

On Wednesday last John Emerson and Anna Marens were united in marriage by the Rev. Sheets of the Methodist church of Rockford and their marriage came as a surprise to their many friends. The groom is a son of Mrs. L. D. Emerson and an efficient clerk at the New York Fair of Broadhead. The happy couple enjoyed a short wedding tour to Chicago and after March first will be at home on the groom's mother's farm northeast of Beloit. Hosts of friends wish Mr. and Mrs. Emerson an abundance of happiness and prosperity.

Labor Notes

The stonemasons of Springfield, O. have asked for 45 cents an hour for eight hours. They have been receiving 30 to 34 cents. Bricklayers now get 50 cents an hour, a difference that does not exist elsewhere in the wages of these two crafts.

The Allied Building Trades Council of Philadelphia discovered violations of law involving danger to human life in the erection of Stetson's non-union hat factory and will cause the prosecution of the officers responsible for neglect of duty.

State labor commissioner Sherman, of New York, in his report to the Legislature, recommends the abolition of the free employment agency in New York City, on the ground that the service rendered by the latter does not justify the expenditure.

The Broom Maker reports an increasing membership in that craft, and all union labor factories running to full capacity.

Thousands of non-union employees from Dowie's Zion City have sought employment outside of the "holy grounds," and the press reports state that a thousand are now employed at the Waukegan Steel and Wire Company's Mill, and the foreman have agreed to an hour for prayer each morning, and "another brief interval for special prayer."

Fifteen American girls employed at the Cawston ostrich farm at South Pasadena, Cal., struck recently against the employment of Japs as learners. The strike was speedily settled and the girls returned to work.

During the eleven completed months of 1905, 408,194 seamen were shipped on British vessels at certain stated ports in the United States Kingdom, of whom 57,687 (or 14.1 per cent.) were foreigners.

Washington Iron, molders, after a year's withdrawal from the Central Labor Union, have again sent delegates.

There are several colored unions in Richmond, Va., which are affiliated with a recently organized central body. The tobacco workers have two organizations, numbering 800 members. Others affiliated are the Hod Carriers and Hack Drivers Unions.

In Australia, under a new law, no contract can be made for the carrying of mails by any steamship line, which allows a colored man to work on any of the ships. The mail steamers hitherto have been largely manned by dark-skinned British subjects from India.

It is said that the U. S. steel corporation pays dividend to over 69,953 persons and wages to more than 30,000.

There are 85,000 trade unionists in New South Wales.

Count Boni de Castellane

Character Study of the "Noble" Spendthrift Who Has Been Cast Adrift by His American Wife

Noted as the Best Dressed Man in Paris, Who Buys His Suits by the Dozen and Is a Connoisseur on the Fit of an Overcoat—He Is a Flat Failure as a Husband

HIGH finance is bad, high nobility is worse, and a combination of the two is the limit. For proof—proof is needed—there is the divorce suit brought by the daughter of Jay Gould against Count Boni de Castellane. That is enough to make folly laugh and wisdom weep. What is there in the tree of civilization that it bears such fruit? What is there in representative government that the principals in this affair should hail from the two chief republics of the world? After nineteen centuries of Christianity, after all that science and liberty have done for the world, have we come to this—a riot of extravagance and scandal, the matrimonial purchase of titles reduced to an absurdity?

Eleven Years in the Limelight

On March 4, 1895, at the home of George J. Gould, New York City, his sister Anna was married to Count Paul Ernest Boniface de Castellane, otherwise known as "The Powder Puff." Eleven years have passed. Now, as in so many cases where American heiresses have married foreign titles, the courts are asked to annul that marriage. During those eleven years the Castellanes have been in the limelight, kept there by the count's lavish expenditure of money, his amours, his election campaign methods, his duels and his grotesque performances generally. Once he was expelled from the French chamber of deputies on the charge of paying his election to that body. Once his debts reached such an enormous figure that George J. Gould was forced to step in and be appointed trustee of his sister's estate. Twice Count Boni fought duels with editors for printing scandals concerning him.

Count Boni is a royalist. He wants that distinctly understood. The assurance is hardly necessary, as his habits would proclaim that fact, but friends of popular government will receive the definite announcement with satisfaction. The mere fact that he lives under it is something of a reproach to democracy, but his opposition to popular rule serves to remove much of the stigma. The incident is still remembered of the manner in which his confessed lover, a mob of titled featherweights in a demonstration against President Loubet and for no other reason apparently than that Loubet came from the common people and represented them. The Paris papers charged at the time that Count Boni was concerned in that affair. One of the most commendable things about the republic of France is found in the degeneracy of its enemies.

It is not a pleasant task to write of any man without being able to say something good of him. From that aspect a subject like Count Boni de Castellane is disappointing. There are a few things, however, that can be said in modified commendation even in this case.

Best Dressed Parisian

For one thing he is said to be the best dressed man in Paris, whatever recommendation that may be. He orders his suits and overcoats by the dozen, with a slight variety of shade and cut in each. His specialty is overcoats. These he has in all varieties and styles, of the best workmanship and the most expensive material. His whole wardrobe is on the same elaborate and costly line. For example, he never wears a pair of gloves more than once. As for shirts, he pays $7 each, wears at least three a day and never wears one more than three or four times. His theory of dressing evidently is that a man who has no inherent qualities to recommend him necessarily must make the most of appearance. One thing can be said in his favor—his clothes are never loud.

Herein is suggested the second good thing that can be said of him. He is a connoisseur on the fit of an overcoat. His buying of palatial and expensive and his manner of furnishing his Paris palace have evidenced this quality. That palace, by the way, is exactly modeled on the Tribune, which was built by one of the disolute monarchs of France to house his mistress, Count Boni not only had his building itself after this model, but got all his furniture from special makers of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, paying fabulous prices, of course. Most of these furnishings are those actually used by royalty. For example, a bed presented to the Countess Anna is said to be one of the most expensive beds in the world. It was made at the order of some French monarch for his mistress, possibly the same one for whom the Tribune was built. There were so many of these cases it is impossible to speak with exactitude. No wonder the French were driven to revolution.

An Opera Bouffe Ducl

The third thing that has been claimed in Count Boni's favor is that he is a fearless duelist, a rather equivocal vanced in his own behalf is that he likes America. And why should he like it? He has not furnished it with a penny of his money. He has squandered and made it possible for him to cut some figure in the world, even though it is but a sorry one. Are not travelers, shippers, and consumers in this country putting up for earnings on Jay Gould's watered railroad stock the funds that this little foreign tailor's dummy is throwing to the winds? Why shouldn't he like America?

These constitute the list of questionable credit points. Out of the whole bunch only three can be mentioned with any glowing warmth of approval. They are that Boni sought to protect the name of a woman that he turned a joke and that he fought for his seat in the chamber of deputies. That is the extent of Count Boni's virtues. Honestly, after diligent search, the writer has been able to find no more. Is it not pitiful? As for the other side of the ledger, it is of sufficient extent to produce nausea. But let it speak for itself.

Fisher of Heiresses

Count Boni's first appearance in this country was a dozen years ago. Then he went fishing at Newport for a fisher not of men, but of heiresses. It is on record that he first cast his bait for Miss Virginia Fair, who is now Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt. Failing to land her, he next angled for Consuelo Vanderbilt, now the Duchess of Marlborough. Fisherman's luck again. It was while at Newport that he got the name of "The Powder Puff."

Perhaps it was on account of depleted finances that he now left the watering place of the Four Hundred, and traveled through the west for a while. But the matrimonial campaign was by no means abandoned. Returning to New York, Count Boni gave a dinner. Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould were among the guests; also their sister Anna, then a young girl, building into womanhood. The impressionable Boni's heart was again snatched—or, was it his pocketbook?—and the Goulds were invited on a hunting trip to Canada. Six weeks after the initial meeting the engagement was announced. The count, who had been living very modestly in rooms on East Thirty-second street, promptly moved to the Waldorf-Astoria and began to cut a swell. The announcement of the betrothal had evidently improved his credit. The wedding followed in due course and was of course sumptuous.

Cherries at $4 Each

The fortune which Anna Gould brought to her husband is estimated at about $17,000,000, but bound up in such a way that she could only enjoy the income from it, $600,000 a year. Boni promptly began to burn this. His expenditures were so lavish and the swell he cut was so joyous that Paris first gasped and then laughed. As a sample, it is related that he paid $4 each for cherries. Other things were in proportion. In five years he had become so involved that a London firm of jewelers brought suit. "George J. Gould here had to step in." Prior to that time Boni had sold George at a fabulous figure a fine pair of Sevres vases. George found them in the Londoner's bill still unpaid for. Since then there has been a decided coolness between the head of the Gould family and his titled brother-in-law.

Suit was at once begun by George J. Gould to sequester his sister's estate. Then Boni's transactions came to light. In these five years he had not only spent $3,000,000 or more, but was in debt to the tune of $4,400,000. As a result Anna's allowance was henceforth cut to $200,000 a year, the other $400,000 going to liquidate the count's liabilities. But it is known that Boni has been making debts since wherever he could get credit. Still he has not bowed quite so high. An expensive yacht he bought has been sacrificed for one thing. In connection with this yacht there is a story. At the Countess Anna's order it once put to sea and a high society woman to whom Boni had been very attentive was landed, bag and baggage. There were many other stories of this sort.

As for Anna Gould, only sympathy is expressed for her both in this country and in Europe. Perhaps she is not entitled to too much of it, as sympathy is too precious to be squandered and she has got what she paid for, but she was only a young girl when she married, and evidence is not lacking that she truly loved her scapegrace of a husband. She has borne much. She has overlooked all the little peccadilloes many of which the world has heard whispers concerning and many more of which doubtless the public has known nothing. As long as only chorus girls and women in like station were concerned the aggrieved wife bore in silence, but when women were involved whom she had to meet in her own social set she drew the line. It is said that three have been named in the divorce suit. One of them, a business woman, the wife of a man with a worldwide reputation, precipitated the scandal. Count Boni was warned by his wife that the affair must be broken off, and he promised. Thereupon the business out of revenge laid a trap for him, and from this grew the suit. That is the story. Pitiful is the only word that describes it.

The Castellanes have three sons—George, Boni and Jay. Of these the mother has control—mercifully. In the last quarter of a century over 150 American heiresses have married titled foreigners. It is estimated that the fortunes which they have banded over to their husbands have aggregated over $200,000,000.

Perhaps the Castellane divorce suit may serve to awaken people to the enormity of this matrimonial tuff hunting and commercialism.

SORES THAT DO NOT HEAL

Whenever a sore or ulcer does not heal, no matter on what part of the body it may be, it is because of a poisoned condition of the blood. This poison may be the remains of some constitutional trouble; the effect of a long spell of sickness, which has left this vital stream polluted and weak, or because the natural refuse matter of the body, which should pass off through the channels of nature, has been left in the system and absorbed into the circulation. It does not matter how the poison became entrenched in the blood; the fact that the sore is there and does not heal is evidence of a deep underlying cause. There is nothing that causes more discomfort, worry and anxiety than a festering, discharging old sore that resists treatment. The very sight of it is abhorrent and suggests pollution and disease; besides the time and attention required to keep it clean and free from other sufferer grows morbidly anxious, fearing it may be cancerous. Some of those afflicted with an old sore or ulcer know how useless it is to expect a cure from salves, powders, lotions and other external treatment. Through the use of these they have seen the place begin to heal and scab over, and were congratulating themselves that they would soon be rid of the detestable thing, when a fresh supply of poison from the blood would cause the inflammation and old discharge to return and the sore would be as bad or worse than before. Sores that do not heal are not due to outside causes; if they were, external treatment would cure them. They are kept open because the blood is steeped in poison, which finds an outlet through these places. While young people, and even children, sometimes suffer with non-healing sores, those most usually afflicted are persons past middle life. Often, with them, a wart or mole on the face inflames and begins to ulcerate from a little rough handling; or a deep, offensive ulcer develops from a slight cut or bruise. Their vital energies and powers of resistance have grown less, and circulation weaker, and perhaps some taint in the blood, which was held in check by their stronger constitutions of early life, shows itself. It is well to be suspicious of any sore that does not heal readily, because the same germ that produces Cancer is back of every old sore and only needs to be left in the circulation to produce this fatal disease. There is only one way to cure these old sores and ulcers, and that is to get every particle of the poison out of the blood. For this purpose nothing equals S. S. S. It goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, cleanses the blood and makes a permanent cure. S. S. S. enriches and freshens the circulation so that it carries new, strong blood to the diseased parts and allows the place to heal naturally. When this is done the discharge ceases, the sore scabs over and fills in with healthy flesh, and the skin regains its natural color. Book on Sores and ulcers and any medical advice desired will be furnished without charge.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

I have had a crippled foot all my life, which compelled me to use a brace. By some unaccountable means, this brace caused a bad cancer on my leg, about six years ago. I had good medical attention, but the ulcer got worse. I was in despair, but I tried S. S. S., and am glad to say it cured me entirely, and I am convinced it saved my leg for me. I have, therefore, great faith in S. S. S., and highly recommend it to all needing a reliable blood medicine. Bristol, Va., Tenn. W. J. CATE.

THE WORLD OF WHITE

The Greatest Merchandise Event That This Store and City Has Ever Shown.

The Muslin Underwear has spread itself with a matchless array of remarkable values.

The White Goods keep step with a showing of fine, dainty fabrics that's a delight to look upon.

The Embroideries chime in with a superb collection of the best styles in Swiss Embroideries, Edgings, and Insertions that we could gather. White goods or white materials are doing themselves proud at this World of White. It takes the right kind of merchandise and plenty of it to make a successful sale.

The World of White will not fail to impress any woman with the fact that The Big Store gets there with the goods.

Muslin Underwear.

A stock so complete that the difficult thing would be to ask for something that we have not got. Most women are particular about Undermuslins, Quality, workmanship and Style are three things that go to make all our garments what they are: as good as can be made. Right now we consider that our assortment of Undermuslins is entitled to the blue ribbon over any previous line we have shown.

Bargain Lots of Gowns, Skirts, Corset Covers and Drawers at special figures, which mean a big saving. All on Sale in south store.

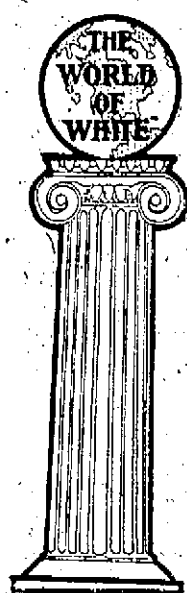

White Goods.

Surely it is an opportune time to buy while we are offering for the four days, during The World of White all White Goods at marked reductions. White Goods have advanced in price owing to the condition of the cotton market; but last fall we looked ahead, placed orders for large quantities at old prices, for spring delivery, and our customers get the benefit.

Linen Suitings, Waistings, Butchers' Linen, Bosom Linens, Linen Sheeting, Pillow Caseing, Linens for fancy work, Handkerchief Linens, Huck Toweling, plain and fancy linens for all purposes, bleached and unbleached; our leadership is not questioned. "Old Bleach" Linens are popular; several grades here. Linens from Great Britain's leading mills bought direct from their New York representative.

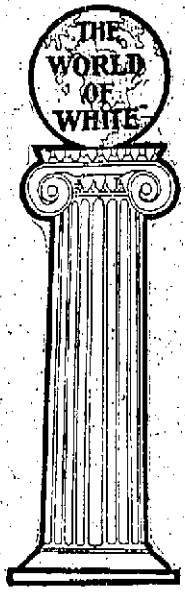

Embroideries

Thousands and thousands of yards of the most beautiful patterns imported especially for The Big Store. More or prettier embroideries were never shown in this city. To select from such an array is the height of pleasure of any woman who enjoys shopping. So many lovely novelties that we control. Hamburg, Swiss, Nainsook—the three qualities are shown in profusion. Edgings, Insertions, Beadings, Allowers. 2500 yards of Edgings and Insertions, all widths, excellent qualities, will be offered at much less than regular prices. All prices made in Tuesday's advertisement will be carried out to the letter, except as regards Waists and Suits, which will not arrive in time.

The World of White

This week, continuing through Saturday, Feb. 24th, will give the people an idea of the vastness of the Big Store's equipment of White Goods, with new things being constantly received. It is given to demonstrate this store's position on a thousand items in White Goods that can be bought more advantageously right here at home than in larger cities. If one cares to make comparisons the truth will out.
